Venue: The Hong Kong Institution of Engineers, 9/F Island Beverley, No 1 Great George Street, Causeway Bay, Hong Kong (香港銅鑼灣紀利佐治街1號金百利9樓 香港工程師學會)

Programme Highlights

Sustainable development has become one of the most popular concepts and principles in architecture, planning and engineering. Planning for sustainability and integral sustainable design is the contemporary approach in developing any future infrastructures. How sustainable development can be achieved to meet the present needs without sacrificing the quality of the future environment is the main theme of this conference. The lawmaker, professional and practitioner have been invited to come together to share their views on sustaining Hong Kong's infrastructure development in a wider and deeper perspective.

The guest speakers include:-

Ir Dr Hon LO Wai Kwok (盧偉國議員), Legislative Council Member

Mr Patrick LAU Lai Chiu (劉勵超先生), Advisor, Hong Kong Ideas Centre & Former Director, Lands Department

Ir John CHAI Sung Veng (蔡新榮工程師), Executive Director, Projects, Airport Authority

They will discuss the development needs, environmental responsibilities, ways to sustainability, sustainable solutions, framework of green features and the initiatives for future infrastructures.
